More Kennedy Politicking Set For This Week

Maryland, New York Visits Due; Midwest Hears Special Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy kept his political briefcase handy today after a whirlwind tour through four Midwestern states appealing to voters to send more Democrats to Congress.

Wednesday night he will be off again, to Baltimore for a political rally.

Friday and Saturday he swings through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Kentucky. More schedules are being lined up. His politicking will keep him on the road every weekend until the Nov. 6 election.

Throughout his campaigning during the weekend in Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota, Kennedy's theme was the same: He wants to get the country moving again, but Republicans block him on some of his major efforts.

In St. Paul Saturday night the President put it this way: "This country has many pieces of unfinished business. Many of the things that we hoped to do are still not done, but we are trying to do them."

"And we need members of the House and Senate who are committed, not merely to voting 'aye' and 'nay,' but participating in the legislative process, which makes it possible for this country to go ahead."

Then he winds up, as he did Saturday night, with a pitch like this:

"That is why I come here tonight, although I am not a candidate for office, asking your help on issue after issue, which will make it possible to educate your children, to find jobs for our citizens, to provide security for our older people, and to make this country the greatest country in the world, which it is, and which it must be if this world and the country are going to remain free."

This argument presents some difficulties:

1. Kennedy rarely mentions that he already has a pretty good majority of Democrats in the House and Senate. The House margin is 262 to 174, the Senate 64 to 36. He gets around this by ignoring deficiencies and saying too many issues are settled, one way or another, by a couple of votes.

2. He passes over the fact that some Republicans support him on key issues more consistently than some Democrats.

3. Most important, though, is this: a president, no matter how great his prestige, has always had trouble transferring it to congressmen.

Kennedy is acutely aware of this. During the weekend he repeatedly pointed out that only once, during the heyday of the New Deal, in 1934, has the party in power gained seats in the off years when there is no presidential contest.

Kennedy's weekend went well until rain Sunday brought a halt to plans for a stop in St. Cloud, Minn. He addressed the rally by phone before flying back to Washington. He talked mostly about his administration's agriculture policies.

Throughout the trip crowds were good, though not always spectacular.

In the Midwest weekend campaigning has its hazards at this time of year—it's hard to buck Big Ten football.

To Reign Friday

THAT'S NOT the weather forecast—at least these five young ladies earnestly hope not. As the Miami Trace High School Homecoming Queen and court, they'll be wishing for fair skies Friday night to make the Panthers' homecoming game with SCOL rival Franklin Heights, and the accompanying ceremonies in MT stadium a big success. In front, from left are senior attendant Penny Noble and Queen Janet Hare; in back, from left, are sophomore attendant Carole Noble (Penny's sister), freshman attendant Marty Knost and junior attendant Sharon Huff. (By way of explanation, it literally poured at the MT Homecoming last year in Gardner Park and the girls and their escorts sat it out under umbrellas and plastic sheets with only about 300 persons in the stands.)

Catholic Church Expected To Hold Firm To Beliefs

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Ever since Pope John XXIII called the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council more than three years ago, there have been high hopes of progress toward Christian unity.

But with the council now just three days off, it is clear the Roman Catholic Church will not depart from basic beliefs that have divided it from Protestants and Orthodox Catholics for centuries.

This doesn't mean the council will not contribute an improvement in relations between the Roman Church and other churches. The preparations for the council have already resulted in close contacts between the churches, and Protestant observers are in Rome to attend council sessions.

Undoubtedly their presence here will further strengthen inter-church ties, and there could be changes of interpretation and emphasis in Catholic belief.

Pope John has indicated he would like the council, while not changing basic beliefs, to remove some of the misunderstandings that have caused antagonism about them. But church unity still looks to be years and maybe centuries in the future.

The Pope's original announcement of the council referred to his hope that it would be "an invitation to unity" to Protestants.

He and other Roman Catholic prelates later elaborated, explaining that they hoped the council would strengthen and renew the Roman Catholic Church as to attract the "separate brothers" back into the fold.

Rufino Cardinal Santos, archbishop of Manila, said in an interview over the weekend that Catholicism could not budge from its established position although it was entering into a "mutual beneficial" dialogue with Protestants.

Cardinal Santos said Pope John has "made it clear that the Roman Catholic Church is opening its arms to all Christians. We are here waiting for you to return to us, to come back to us, to return to your true home."

Pope John, in formally convoking the council, said the council

"would make more vivid in the separated brothers the desire for the hoped-for return to unity and would open the way for it." But he made clear that he was thinking of a return of Protestants to Catholicism, not a union or confederation of churches with shared authority.

"Where Peter (the Pope) talks," he said, "you know it is Jesus who talks."

A few days later l'Osservatore Romano was even blunter. Christian unity, the Vatican newspaper said, can only be realized through a Catholic-type hierarchy presided over by an infallible authority.

Roman Catholics consider Popes infallible when making pronouncements in the full authority of their office on matters of faith or morals. This doctrine of infallibility has been one of the chief factors dividing the Roman Catholic and other Christian churches.

$46,437 Apparent Low Bid On Fire Department Addition

Washington C. H. Construction Co. was the apparent low bidder Monday for construction of a new addition to the city fire station.

City Manager David Foell said the firm's base bid was $46,437, the lowest of three submitted.

Other base bids were $49,923 by A. E. McFarlane, Newark, and $53,888.43 by Lisk Construction Co., Washington C. H.

The city's base estimate was $46,540.

The base project provides for construction of a two-story addition without a basement and without a high parapet to make the addition conform architecturally with the existing front on the City Building. Without the parapet the front of the addition will be eight feet lower than the existing front.

Five alternate bids also were requested. These included variations such as a basement with parapet and basement without parapet.

Foell said the alternate bids are now being tabulated. The bids were opened at noon. The addition will provide space for the city's new pumper and quarters for the new firemen to be hired next year under the fire department expansion program being financed by a two-mill fire protection levy approved last November.

Purpose of the program is to reduce the city's fire insurance classification from Class 7 to Class 6.

The bids will be submitted to

City Council Wednesday night for action on the awarding of a contract.

Coffee Break..

THE CITY'S new $32,000 fire pumper is equipped with all sorts of electricity consuming devices.

And all of them were tested and demonstrated many, many times over the weekend.

The result, come Monday morning, was 4 dead batteries.

THE CHARGE was public intoxication. The circumstances of the intoxication were rather unusual.

Sheriff's Deputy Bob Cannon spotted a Dogtown area man bicycling along Robinson Rd. in Wayne Twp. about sunset Saturday.

He was weaving from side to side, obviously very much intoxicated, but some how managing to stay upright.

Cannon arrested him on the intoxication charge.

Later, on a close reading of the law, the deputy found he could have charged the man with driving while intoxicated. Bicycles are legally "vehicles" and the DWI offense covers the operation of all vehicles whether motor-powered or not.

Solon Threatens HST With Lawsuit

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman left Evansville Sunday with a libel and slander suit threatened against him for remarks he made about Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., at a Democratic rally Saturday night.

Truman departed from his speech text to charge that Capehart once asked him to reach a settlement with John L. Lewis in a postwar coal strike crisis to keep Capehart from losing $10,000 a day.

Capehart branded it a "fantastic lie" and added, "I will make Truman pay for that statement."

Postmaster Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators have confirmed the postmaster nomination submitted by President Kennedy for Florence M. Pontious of Laurelville, Hocking County, Ohio.

Cuba Demands U.N. Rap U.S. For 'Act Of War'

'Navy Blockade' Said In Effect

Kennedy Is Target Of Bitter Attack

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—In a stormy General Assembly session, Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado demanded today that the United Nations condemn as "an act of war" what he called a U.S. naval blockade. The Cuban president was interrupted repeatedly by anti-Castro hecklers. His reference to an alleged U.S. naval blockade brought a prolonged burst of applause from the Soviet bloc, a small group of African delegates and some visitors in the public galleries.

He received another round of applause when he said: "Cuba has friends, Cuba has friendly governments. It is not alone."

A half-dozen shouting men and women were hustled from the public galleries by alert U.N. guards as they hurled insults at Dorticos. Security reinforcements were rushed into the galleries and the assembly president threatened to suspend the meeting unless order was maintained.

In a bitter attack on the Kennedy administration, the Cuban president accused the United States of acting "in obvious contempt of the United Nations" in calling last week's meeting of Latin American foreign ministers in Washington.

He said the meeting was aimed at persuading the other nations to join in "the domestic subversion of my country."

Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson indicated he would abide by U.N. tradition which forbids delegates to answer remarks made by a chief of state. But he arranged a news conference to make his reply later in the day. He also was expected to deal with the Cuban charges at a later meeting of the assembly.

Assembly President Muhammad Zafrulla Khan assured Dorticos he was doing his best to keep order. He warned that he would clear the chamber if necessary.

Dorticos assailed the joint U.S. congressional statement, which he read out, that urged action against Cuba.

The Cuban president stressed the phrase "including the use of arms" in preventing the spread of Marx-Lenin doctrines in the hemisphere.

"This is most bizarre," he said. "Was it Cuba that was guilty of aggressions in this hemisphere?" he demanded.

"President Kennedy admitted that the Bay of Pigs invasion was carried out by troops prepared in the United States, troops were prepared in one Central American country for invasion of another."

High Winds Slash Fairfield County

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—High winds hit sections of Fairfield County early Monday, damaging some farm buildings but causing no injuries. Weather Bureau officials were checking into the storm after receiving reports that a tornado might have been involved.

Several buildings were damaged on the McKinley Watson farm near Baltimore. The roof of a barn was ripped off. Another report was that two buildings were destroyed and a barn damaged on the F. M. Duffy farm six miles south of Reynoldsburg in Fairfield County.

The winds were believed part of the general thunder and rainstorm which hit this section of Ohio.

'One Gift Works Many Wonders'

Chest Appeal Opens Today; County's Goal Is $26,500

"One Gift Works Many Wonders."

This is the theme for the 1962 Community Chest campaign opening Monday.

The goal is $26,500, the same as in the campaign a year ago. However the 1961 goal was never reached, forcing a 7 per cent cut in distribution to member agencies.

About 400 volunteers will be participating in this year's effort.

Perse Harlow, Chest executive secretary, said.

SOLICITATIONS in the employee group and the business-industry divisions will open the campaign Monday.

The Jaycees under the direction of Ken McDaniel are handling the business district solicitations again this year.

Joseph Peters heads the team in charge of the employee group solicitation.

Harlow said many business firms and other organizations, such as city and county employees and the schools, are having employee solicitations in their particular organizations.

The Community Chest had 40 of these employee groups last year and hopes to have more for this campaign.

The house-to-house canvass in Washington C. H., Bloomington, Jeffersonville and the rural areas of the county will begin next Monday, Oct. 15.

Paul Crosby, Community Chest president, said in kicking off the campaign, "Your Community Chest gift helps our children, aids the sick and needy, serves our men in the armed forces, provides fun and recreation for the whole family. When the Red Feather volunteers call on you, give a friendly welcome for they are giving their time to help make this united fund drive a big success this year, and assure each of the ten fine local organizations enough funds to carry on their important (Please Turn to Page 2)

Cuban Prisoner Release Nearing

HAVANA (AP)—Release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners captured in the April 1961 invasion appeared imminent today. A negotiator for the families of the captives said it seemed that "all went well, thank God."

Apparently only a few formal-ties, such as the wording of the communique, remained to be settled before the men are set free and flown to the United States.

The optimistic impression came from Mrs. Berta Barreto de los Heros, Havana representative of the Cuban Families Committee. She refused to elaborate on her comment that all seemed well. She said she was pledged to silence during the final stage of the talks.

The likelihood of an impending break was strengthened by a quick trip from Havana to Miami by New York attorney James B. Donovan, negotiator for the families' committee. Speculation arose that Donovan, who flew back to Havana Sunday night, had arranged special transportation to Florida for the prisoners.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government asked $62 million for all prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs invasion. About 60 have been freed. Donovan said when he left for Havana last month that he would offer Castro medicine and food in lieu of a cash ransom.

Mrs. Barreto said that Donovan was to meet Castro again, possibly today.

In a speech opening the Latin American University Games Sunday night, Deputy Prime Minister Raul Castro assailed U.S. policies and declared any invasion force would face annihilation if it set foot on Cuban soil.

Castro, who is Fidel's brother and also armed forces minister, called the Bay of Pigs prisoners a "herd of traitors" and added, "If their masters want to rescue them, let them pay the price that has been fixed."

Donovan, who negotiated the swap of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel last year, made his quick trip to Miami on an unscheduled Pan American World Airlines plane.

Ike Campaigns In California For Dick Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower hits the campaign trail in California today for his old running mate and vice president, Richard M. Nixon.

Republicans hope Eisenhower's vote-winning magic will help Nixon in his race for the California governorship against incumbent Edmund G. Brown.

The two former Washington teammates will speak at fund raising dinners linked by closed circuit television tonight—Eisenhower at the Cow Palace in San Francisco and Nixon at the Hollywood Palladium.

At Oklahoma City Sunday, Eisenhower criticized the Kennedy administration for what he called the weakening of the American concept of individual freedom and attempts by government to exert more control on U.S. citizens. About 10,000 persons heard him give ringing endorsements of Oklahoma's GOP candidates.

Nixon pledged anew, to a national television audience, that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1964 under any circumstances.

Schirra Urges U.S. Space Program Be Speeded Up

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Walter M. Schirra Jr., America's most widely traveled space pilot, says he came back from his "textbook flight" six times around the world with one suggestion for the next U.S. space venture: Just move up its launching date.

He came back from that flight reluctantly, said the 39-year-old Navy commander.

"I would like to have gone for 12 more (orbits)," he said.

Schirra also told newsmen at a nationally televised news conference Sunday that at one point in his 9-hour, 13-minute flight he completely cut himself off from ground control.

To conserve the power supply of his Sigma 7 spacecraft, he said, he threw a switch cutting off the electrical system which would have allowed ground control stations to bring him out of orbit in an emergency.

"From the beginning," he said, "I wanted to turn off the armed squib (control box), which means that it is my capsule and no one can bring me back until I put the switch back."

He left it off until Christopher Kraft, Project Mercury flight director, told him: "I think you have proved our point, old buddy."

As he told the story of Wednes-

ASTRONAUT Walter Schirra, who covered 160,000 miles around the earth during six orbits last week, is all smiles as he returns home to Houston, Texas and was greeted by 10,000 hometown fans at the airport. He later took off in a motorcade that traveled amid crowd lined streets on the way to Rice University.

day's flight, Schirra made 9 hours and 13 minutes in the weightless world of space sound like a drive to the corner drug store.

"I had no problems, no uneasiness, no queasiness," said Schirra. (Please Turn to Page 2)

Supplemental Money Bill Is Holding Up Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A supplemental money measure appeared to be the key to adjournment as Congress today headed into what may be the final week of its longest continuous session since 1951.

With many members of both houses already home campaigning for the Nov. 6 elections, these were some of the tasks facing those who remained in Washington.

Senate action on the foreign aid appropriation.

Half a dozen appropriations measures, including a $500-million supplemental bill on which adjournment may hinge.

A public works authorization bill.

The Senate is expected to act today on the compromise foreign aid appropriation which the House passed Saturday 171-108. The measure now calls for $3, 928,900,000 in foreign aid spending, $1,032,400,000 less than President Kennedy originally asked.

Much attention was focused on the $500-million supplemental appropriation which two Senate Democrats—Richard B. Russell of Georgia and George A. Smathers of Florida—were trying to delay for different reasons.

Russell was trying to bring pressure on the House while Smathers eyed the money measure as possible leverage while he jockeyed with the President over a pension bill.

Russell blocked attempts to hustle the measure onto the Senate floor last week and threatened to insist on compliance with a rule requiring three days to elapse before the Senate can act on such a bill.

He hopes to force the House to reverse its decision on a $5-billion appropriation for the Department of Agriculture. The House last week refused to accept about $25 million worth of research projects tacked onto the bill by the Senate, including a $1.6-million peanut marketing research station in Russell's home state—Georgia.

A bill permitting self-employed persons to set up tax exempt pensions within limits is now before Kennedy. There has been speculation he might veto it. It would become law at midnight Wednesday if he does not act on it before then and both houses are still in session.

A public works authorization measure was ready for passage by both houses this week. The future of a similar bill authorizing work on rivers, harbors and flood control was hazy.

Ohio Agriculture Said At Peak

'Decline' In Farming Labeled False Report

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—The director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station here says that Ohio agriculture is now at a historical peak in terms of its value to the state economy.

Dr. Roy M. Kottman, dean of the Ohio State University College of Agriculture and Home Economics, and station director, said that rumors of a declining agriculture do not take into account either production or value to the state.

Dr. Kottman said the only agricultural decline today is in the number of farms and farmers. It's true, he added, that Ohio has some 100,000 fewer farmers than were operating 20 years ago. But he said today Ohio farmers are producing 140 million pounds more beef, 750 million more pounds of milk, and more than 100 million more bushels of corn every year than Ohio farmers of the early 1940s.

At the same time, he said, Ohio has a half-million fewer acres in wheat although farmers are producing more than a million more bushels of grain yearly than they did 20 years ago.

Dean Kottman had these other points to make in his agriculture review:

It can be shown that for every four cows producing 10,000 pounds of milk, there will be $3,000 to $5,000 additional business on the main streets of the surrounding towns and cities. The same is true for every 10 brood sows and for every 50 steers that are fed to market weight, for every 21 beef cows producing calves, and for every 600 hens.

In the next 50 years, Ohio will need to produce 2 1/2 times as much per acre as our present big production. This, Dr. Kottman said, means 185 bushels of corn acre.

Fortunately, he concluded, Ohio has ample reason to believe that "we have not yet begun to approach the upper limits of production."

Check Writer On Probation

Freddie C. Troutman, 20, of Rt. 4, Willingdon, has been placed on probation for four years in Common Pleas Court here following his plea of guilty to a charge of uttering a check with insufficient funds.

Troutman's probation will be released effective when he is released next May from the Lebanon Correctional Institution where he is serving a term for auto theft.

The defendant appeared before Judge John P. Case on an information filed by County Prosecutor Rollo M. Marchant. He passed the $36 check at the Pure Point Service Station in payment for a tire and tube prior to beginning his term at Lebanon.

Marchant recommended probation after conferring with the Lebanon social worker. Troutman is to make restitution for the worthless check.

Four Persons Hurt In Miscellaneous Weekend Accidents

Lacerations and abrasions received in miscellaneous accidents sent four persons to the Memorial Hospital emergency room over the weekend. All were subsequently released.

They were: Mrs. William Fout, 1023 Center St., who received an injury to her left ankle in a fall at home;

Dounda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, Bloomington, who suffered burns on her right arm and leg when she accidentally spilled hot coffee;

Oscar Black, Rt. 1, Leeburg, who caught his right thumb in a corn picker;

Jim Spurlock, son of Mrs. Betty Spurlock, 422 Peabody Ave., who received abrasions of his face, chest and both hands in an unidentified accident.

Dogs Wearing Tags Have Better Chance In Case Of Mishap

Reginald Davis, Fayette County's dog warden, Monday warned dog owners not only to secure licenses for their animals but also to see that the licenses are put on the dogs.

He said that there have been recent cases where a dog has met with an accident but was not licensed and had to be killed because officials did not know the owner.

In case a dog is hurt and wears a license, the owner is called since he can be located through the county auditor's office where license records are kept.

In event of injury the dog is taken to a veterinarian for attention and the owner is informed. Otherwise an injured dog is often shot.

Deaths, Funerals

O. O. Bush

O. O. Bush, 84, retired teacher and a member of a pioneer Fayette County family, died at 12:45 p.m. Monday in Memorial Hospital where he had been admitted Saturday.

Mr. Bush, who lived on Mt. Olive Rd., had been a farmer since retiring from the teaching profession. He had taught in a number of Fayette County schools and was at one time superintendent of the Bloomington school.

An authority on muzzle-loading rifles, Mr. Bush was a director of the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Association for many years.

Never married, he is survived by a brother, Will Bush, Reynolds Rd., a niece, Miss Geraldine Bush, and two nephews, Edgar and Max Bush.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Cinda Kay Lynch

Cinda Kay Lynch, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emur (Fat) Lynch, 717 N. North St., died at 7:15 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Hospital.

Although she had been an invalid most of her life, her death, which was due to heart disease, came unexpectedly.

Cinda Kay was a member of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, Gregg St.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a twin sister, Linda Gay, and another sister, Diana Lynn, 9, at home; a half-sister, Mrs. Sandra J. Mitchell St. Louis.

Mrs. Faye Lynch, 319 N. Main St., is the paternal grandmother, and Mrs. Eliza Haggard, 233 N. Draper St., is the maternal grandmother.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Gregg St. Church, with the pastor, Rev. Charles Williams, officiating. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Gerstner Funeral Home at any time.

CHARLES M. ABRAMS—Services for Charles Morris Abrams, 87, of 531 Third St., were held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Gerstner Funeral Home, with burial in Washington Cemetery. Mr. Abrams, a horse trainer, died Wednesday.

The Rev. James Woodfork, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bloomington, conducted the services, and the choir of the A.M.E. Church sang two hymns. Pallbearers were Albert Stewart, Carl Hargrove, Bob Dixon, Roscoe Vevens, John H. Johnson, James Abrams and Alfonso Sanders.

EPHIE FROST—Services for Ephie Frost, 57, Stafford Rd., who died at 1:50 a.m. Thursday in Fayette Memorial Hospital were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Littleton Funeral Home in Sabina by the Rev. Charles Foster, pastor of the White Oak Grove Church.

Pallbearers for the burial in the White Oak Grove Cemetery were Harry Campbell, Lester Stephenson, Glenn Pierce, Preston Lowe, Gene Cockerill and Herman Dowler.

JAMES M. WAREHIME—Services for James Montgomery Warehime, 7-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Warehime, Wilmington, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Littleton Funeral Home in Sabina by the Rev. Fred Moore, of Wilmington.

The infant died unexpectedly Friday morning in the office of Dr. T. M. Faeble in Sabina. Mr. and Mrs. Warehime are former residents of Sabina.

Burial was in Sabina Cemetery.

CHRISTOPHER BRILL—Services for Christopher Ray Brill, 78, of 223 Bell Ave., were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Parrett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Mr. Brill, a retired farmer, died Thursday.

Miss Donna Dawes, Mrs. Linda Davis and Mrs. Mary Huff sang two hymns, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bertha Dawes. Pallbearers for the burial in Pleasant Cemetery, Mt. Sterling, were Lawrence Bucher, William Goldsberry, William and Denver Underwood, David Taylor and Clyde Brill.

Distiller Is Missing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's first assistant attorney general says he has tried unsuccessfully for a week to contact a Chicago distiller who claims to have had to pay to have his brands listed in Ohio.

Theodore R. Saker, the assistant attorney general, wants to ask Joseph Makler, president of Waterfill & Frazier Distillers, to testify voluntarily before a special grand jury.

Shaker said Makler reportedly was in New York over the weekend, apparently because of the Jewish Yom Kippur holy day.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has indicated a special grand jury would be called if a Makler is available to testify. A court order, directing Makler to appear, has been prepared.

Walker Faces Mental Tests

Judge Grants Freedom Pending Examinations

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who denies he's guilty of federal charges evolving from riots at the University of Mississippi, will undergo psychiatric examination here this week.

The former Army officer charged with inciting an insurrection and seditious conspiracy will undergo psychiatric examination here this week.

The Supreme Court decision was given by the Ohio Supreme Court. It was appealed to the high tribunal by Nico Jacobellis, manager of a theater in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Jacobellis was fined $2,500 after the showing of "The Lovers," a film produced in France.

In upholding the fine imposed on Jacobellis and validity of the law, the Ohio supreme court said it had reviewed the movies. It found "The Lovers" was "not hard-core pornography, i.e., filth for filth's sake. It was worse. It was filth for money's sake."

The state court added that "the producers, distributors and exhibitors evidenced so little responsibility that they have no right to assert constitutional guarantees."

The Ohio decision was written by Judge William D. Radcliff of Circleville who was sitting by assignment on the high court.

The appeal by Jacobellis suggested the Ohio law violated federal freedom of communication. It said the Federal Customs Bureau ruled the film was not obscene within the meaning of the tariff act, and that the film was shown in about 100 cities in the United States before being exhibited in Cleveland Heights.

Walker was jovial and talkative to the point his lawyers would allow.

Amid signs of "Welcome home Gen. Walker," he told his supporters, "I'm happy to be back in Texas. The air is clear, bright and wonderful."

"It was supposed to be a short trip to Mississippi, but it was extended to Missouri—much to my surprise."

During a news conference, his attorneys repeatedly advised him not to answer questions surrounding his actions at Ole Miss, where violence erupted when the federal government forced the enrollment of Negro James H. Meredith into the previously all-white school. Walker has been accused of leading rioters against U.S. marshals.

His only reference to the night's rioting was that he advised students on the Oxford, Miss., campus "that nobody has come to Mississippi for any violence and no one intends any."

Asked if he was guilty of the federal charges, Walker said, "Certainly I'm not."

Walker was directed by U.S. Dist. Judge Claud Clayton of Oxford, who reduced an original of $100,000, to undergo psychiatric examination within five days.

Balloon Moon To Be Seen 11 Times In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are 11 chances in the evening between tonight and next Sunday night for Ohioans to see the Echo I satellite.

This is the schedule, with all (Eastern Standard) times and degrees applying to Columbus and varying only slightly elsewhere in the state:

Monday—8:55 p.m., north, 73 degrees above the horizon, moving northeast.

Tuesday—7:59 p.m., north, 88 degrees, NE.

Wednesday—4:23 a.m., south, on horizon, SE; 7:03 p.m., north, 88 degrees, NE; 9:07 p.m., north, 63 degrees, NE.

Thursday—8:12 p.m., north, 71 degrees, NE.

Friday—7:16 p.m., north, 85 degrees, NE; 9:19 p.m., north, 58 degrees, NE.

Saturday—6:20 p.m., south, 72 degrees, NE; 8:24 p.m., north, 61 degrees, NE.

Sunday, Oct. 14—7:28 p.m., north, 68 degrees, NE; 9:31 p.m., north, 58 degrees, SE.

Choir Voice Tests To End This Week

With a present enrollment of 29, the largest in its history, the Fayette County Boys' Choir will continue voice tests the remainder of this week.

Mrs. Robert E. Willis, founder and director, said that tests will be conducted Tuesday and Thursday at 6:40 p.m. in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church. After this week the roster will be closed until next year.

The choir, now beginning its seventh year, will present its first concert of the season at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church at Jackson. Seven interested citizens are furnishing cars for the trip.

High Court To Review Ohio Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision upholding validity of an Ohio law making it a crime to knowingly possess or exhibit an obscene motion picture.

The decision was given by the Ohio Supreme Court. It was appealed to the high tribunal by Nico Jacobellis, manager of a theater in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Jacobellis was fined $2,500 after the showing of "The Lovers," a film produced in France.

HOW THE WEATHER LOOKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Low pressure moving eastward through Ohio Sunday night produced numerous showers and thundershowers in most sections. By early Monday morning thundershowers activity ended in most areas except in the northeast and extreme eastern counties.

Today dry weather is expected for Ohio, except for a few showers this morning in the extreme east. Tonight will be mostly fair and cooler, followed by fair and mild Tuesday.

Near daybreak today, temperatures included Columbus 58, Cleveland 59, Cincinnati 60 and Marietta 62.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO
— Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 69-75, normal low 44-49. Mild days, cool nights most of week. Rainfall will average about one-fourth to one-half inch about end of week.

Cars Leave Road; Drivers Uninjured

Sheriff's officers investigated a two-car traffic accident, one early Sunday, the other early Monday. No injuries were reported.

The first occurred at 4:40 a.m. on Lewis Rd. about a half mile south of Bloomington - New Holland Rd. when a car driven by Andy McMorrow, 22, Rt. 1, Bloomington, went off the pavement and overturned in a ditch. Extent of damage to the small foreign car was not listed.

The other occurred at 4:30 a.m. Monday on Rt. 22-E when a car driven by Richard Kowalski, 21, Bradford, Pa., went off the highway and through a fence on the Ralph Penn farm. The car sustained moderate damage.

Texas Tycoon Is Killed

DILLON, Mont. (AP)—Tom V. Slick, 46, of San Antonio, Tex., oilman and philanthropist, was killed Saturday with his pilot in the crash of their twin-engine plane. Slick was a key figure in the development of Texstar Corp. and a director of Slick Airways and Dresser Industries.

AIDS IN APPEAL—Ken McDaniel, above, is chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce business district solicitation for the Community Chest this year.

work here in Fayette County for another year."

Chest headquarters will be at the First Federal Savings & Loan office again this year.

THE THEME, "One Gift Works Many Wonders," Harlow said, emphasizes that each dollar contributed is divided into 10 parts.

Those parts are the share of Community Chest contributions received by the 10 participating Chest agencies and activities.

They are:

Boy Scouts — More than 485 boys in Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer posts in Washington C. H., Milledgeville, Jeffersonville, at Wilson and Chaffin schools and the Fayette County Children's Home participate in this program. More than 460,000 boy hours were spent during the past year in the worthwhile citizenship training provided by scouting.

Girl Scouts — Three Brownie and four Intermediate troops have a total of 112 girls enrolled in units in Washington C. H. and Bloomington. Last summer some 55 girls attended day camp and 150 attended the Girl Scout birthday party in Columbus.

Camp Fire Girls — Some 254 girls are enrolled in Camp Fire and Blue Bird units in Washington city schools and at New Holland. Day Camp during the past summer was the best ever with 153 girls in attendance during a three-week program.

Community Activity Fund — This fund provides money for the Christmas program. Last year approximately 2,000 boxes of candy were distributed on Santa's arrival. The fund also provided money for Christmas decorations and to help the Jaycees with the July 4 and Halloween celebrations.

Fayette County Mental Health Association — Mental health is one of the nation's foremost health problems. Fifty per cent of all hospital beds in the country are occupied by mental patients. Part of the funds go to provide remembrances for local patients in the state hospitals and for mental health speakers and movies provided for local organizations. The association also supports the state and national programs.

Community Park — These funds are used by the Recreation Advisory Committee to City Council for the maintenance of the park ball diamonds, shelter house and playground areas.

Red Cross — Nationally, money goes to assist in disaster and relief programs. Locally, the blood program at Memorial Hospital, Fayette County servicemen, and the water safety program at Washington Park pool are aided.

The Gray Ladies of the local Red Cross chapter also serve at the Veterans Administration hospital in Chillicothe.

Salvation Army — Bulk of funds go to meet local share of the national work of the organization in operating such services as neighborhood centers and men's social service institutions throughout the nation. Locally, funds are used to help transients and others who need emergency aid of food, clothing and medicine.

U. S. O. — Some 200 young men and women from Fayette County are in the Armed Forces stationed throughout the world. The U. S. O. provides snack bars and entertainment for them both in this country and overseas.

YWCA-YEENS — This is an adult-sponsored organization for girls at Washington and Miami Trace high schools. Several hundred girls are enrolled every year. Funds provided help send girls to Y-Teen summer conferences and leadership camps.

Berlin Newspapers Demand West Act

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin newspapers today demanded Western action, instead of another addition to a pile of paper protests, to counter the latest Communist challenge to Western freedom of movement in Berlin.

Two newspapers suggested that the Western powers bar Soviets from West Berlin in retaliation for the refusal of East German border guards to let a British ambulance enter East Berlin.

The ambulance was barred Saturday when it attempted to go to the medical aid of a West Berliner who was shot at a tunnel entrance on the East side of the wall. He was helping refugees escape. It is not known whether he died of his wounds.

Downed Airmen Return Here To Thank Those Who Helped

Two very grateful veteran Air Force fliers returned Saturday to the scene of the crash that nearly claimed their lives Sept. 8. On that date their F101 Voodoo jet interceptor plane from Lockbourne Air Force Base fell in a corn field along the Bloomington - New Holland Rd. about three miles north of Washington C. H.

Although they were still on crutches, Captain Roger Baker, the pilot, and Captain David Arvey, who was in the emergency room at the hospital, were treated there in the emergency room. They also talked with Mrs. Roberta Wolf, the technician in the emergency room, and Miss Sally Hamilton, the nurses' aide. The other nurses and administrative officers, hospital administrator, were not there, but the fliers asked the others to express their appreciation to them.

The faces of the two fliers, severely wind-burned when they were catapulted out of their plunging plane, showed little evidence of the injury. Both said their eyes had not been permanently affected.

Capt. Baker received a broken ankle and pelvis injury and his leg was still in the cast. Although the cast had been removed from Capt. Arvey's leg, he was still on crutches because of the broken bone in his foot.

JUST FOUR WEEKS before they returned here to express their gratitude for the treatment they received, the F101 Voodoo they were flying on a test run from Lockbourne Air Force Base went out of control at about 25,000 feet and started to plunge to the ground. Capt. Baker said that when he was unable to bring it out of the dive, he and Capt. Arvey catapulted themselves out of the plane at about 15,000 feet. Before the jet hit the ground, it exploded and burst into flames.

The two fliers were treated at Memorial Hospital and later that day taken to the hospital at Lockbourne.

The flight began at 7:15 a.m. Wednesday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and ended at 4:28 p.m. 275 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific. Schirra was picked up by the carrier Kearsarge, and taken to Hawaii where he was placed on a plane which arrived in Houston shortly after midnight Saturday.

Sunday this city—the new home of the Manned Spacecraft Center—turned out to give the astronaut a friendly welcome. Police estimated 300,000 citizens applauded Schirra as the motorcade wound slowly through the city to the Campus of Rice University.

Daytonian Is Accused In Fatal Beating Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said first-degree murder charges will be filed today against Joseph Jones, 35, in the fatal beating of Percy Anthony, about 44, and his wife, Lucy, about 47.

The bodies of the couple were found early Saturday at their home here where Jones lived.

Amerasia held most of a 3-point spurt. The other oils were uneven. Chrysler gained nearly a point in a ragged automotive section. Ford and General Motors eased.

Polaroid advanced more than 2. Xerox nudged upward nearly a point, along with IBM. Korvette was steady.

Competition For Common Stocks Sought

Aerospace Contracts Play Big Role In Company's Future

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Can the astronauts pull the stock market up with them? Will tax loss selling, just around the corner, raise volume if not prices? Can good earnings reports, especially of some of the utilities in growth areas,
"ure" the conservative investor back?

As the market strives to make up its mind which way it's headed, and as most days find trading slow, Wall Street is looking hopefully for something that will make common stocks more competitive again with other ways of investing money.

Stocks of some companies with aerospace contracts already have recovered a nice chunk of their earlier price losses. Brokers are hoping that more of the general public will be attracted.

For the average investor the trick is to be sure which of the hundreds of possibly eligible companies, large and small, will land aerospace contracts or subcontracts. The government will pour billions of dollars into the space race.

But for the investor there's the question: Will profits from any particular contract materially raise total earnings, especially of the big and diversified corporations?

Brokers look for a large volume of tax loss selling this year as an aftermath of the drop in prices of many stocks since January 1.
Persons who bought at prices higher than today's can sell, using the loss to offset any gains from more fortunate ventures.

Naturally the brokers hope that such selling will be largely in the form of switching. That is, money from sales for tax purposes immediately used to buy other stocks that are or appear to be bargain priced now.

But Wall Street is aware that common stocks today have a host of competitors for any idle cash.
Various savings institutions are offering interest rates that still top the yields of many stocks—that is, return individuals as percentage of current prices.

Many bonds, corporate and government, return more at today's prices than do lots of stocks. A lot of investors, big or small, who sold stocks during the market breaks in May and June are believed to have put their money then and since into savings institutions or bonds, real estate or art.

Getting them back into the market may take some doing.
One thing that could do the trick would be a sudden bit of good news—or a growing belief that good news is in the works. If the public gets that idea, it will go for common stocks again. The lower yields, compared with savings or bonds, will weigh less with the public than the hope for capital gains—that is, the chance to sell stocks for more than it paid for them.

That is why some think the astronauts who have captured the public's fancy and enthusiasm could lead the public back into buying stocks of companies whose future is closely linked with the space age.

Others think some investors will be impressed by increased earnings of many utilities. Yields of these stocks aren't spectacular, because their earnings are subject to government regulation. For the same reason, price swings either up or down tend to be staid compared with some industrials.

But utilities serving growing sections offer many attributes

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address.
However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer.
Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Record-Herald.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:
Referring to George Todd's column (Los Angeles Herald Express, Nov. 21, 1961, ten months ago) a patriot immediately got out a news letter in which the following is found:

"Frank Carl Jameson, immediate past president of the United States Navy League, reported that 10 Red ships from Murmansk, Russia, unloaded a vast supply of rocket missiles with nuclear warheads at Cuban ports. Castro is developing a massive missile base complex where ballistic missiles (IRMB) can be aimed at all our major cities east of the Mississippi River. Jameson pointed out that those deadly steel birds will be ready in a couple of months" (this would have been January of 1962 - seven months ago).

Another patriot had evidence of many Chinese Reds landing in Lower California and of the activities committed there.

Someone has withheld this information from the majority of the American citizens. We need to know whether it was intentionally withheld and why? How long shall we be silent?

Informed sources tell us that there will be a summit meeting (after election, of course) between Kennedy and Khrushchev. This will concern the disposition of the Cuban and Berlin situations simultaneously. Berlin is doubtless destined to become another "coalition" government. This is a sugar coating which really means that the Communists have their way completely and are in control of yet another section of our world. (Remember it is a "coalition" government which the United Nations is desperately attempting to foist off on Katanga in the Congo).

If we give Khrushchev Berlin
so he will "behave" in Cuba, what next? As an American citizen, I ask this question - Do we call Khrushchev's bluff now or do we ultimately perish?

Do not be deceived by the promise that there will be a close surveillance of the Caribbean area. . . It has been under close surveillance for years and look at what we allowed to happen there.
Even a casual observer knows that the Communists are very strong in Mexico and South America. Billy Graham, noted evangelist and man of God, said months ago there were 225,000 card-carrying Communists there.

If Khrushchev is not bluffing, isn't it better to know it now than two years from now after the administration has further reduced our armies and navies?
This reduction is in line with our "strategic surrender" policy given to the United Nations by President Kennedy.

According to this policy we reduce our armed forces by two-thirds over the next 10 years and submit ourselves completely to the United Nations forces, controlled and headed by Communists.
By secret agreement it is always to be controlled by the Communists. It always has been so! To date, six Communists have headed the UN military — to date there have been only six men, and each was a Communist. Doesn't this make you feel wonderfully safe? President Kennedy's brilliant and heartwarming speech

usually considered the monopoly of the once glamorous growth companies in other fields.

Brokers argue that, given a reasonably healthy general economy in the next few years, earnings of these utilities should continue to grow—and, with luck, so should the price of their stocks.

was entitled "Freedom from War". Aren't we fortunate!!!
Americans, the time has come.
The hour grows very late! We must speak up or take the consequences!!!

"Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God. I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death." How long shall we be silent???

A Concerned Citizen

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:
This week, from the 7th to the 13th is National Fire Prevention Week.

Around the calendar and around the clock, fire strikes an average of over 1,000 American homes every day. Some are serious. Some are inconsequential. But, by every fire, there's a loss.

Fires take lives, too. Last year there were 11,700 fire fatalities in the United States. And more than 70,000 persons were injured in fires.

Fire plays no favorites. It hits where it is least wanted and least expected. Last year there were serious fires in hospitals, schools, nursing homes and churches, as well as in private dwellings.

Many of these fires should never have happened. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reminds us that three-fourths of all fires are the result of carelessness, and with a little care we should be able to reduce our mounting fire toll. And mounting it is.

Last year fire losses totaled $1-209,042,340, the greatest dollar loss in history and an increase of 9.1
per cent over the preceding year.
The efforts of every citizen in the nation are needed in the drive for fire safety.

You can join the drive in many ways:

1. After you have smoked a cigarette, make sure you extinguish it.
2. Never leave small children alone. If you must leave children, asked an adult to stay with them or employ a qualified baby sitter.
3. Keep matches out of the reach of children.
4. Never strike matches or carry lighted matches or candles in closets or attics.
5. Keep electrical appliances in good repair.
6. Make sure your electric fuse box contains fuses of the proper amperage.
7. Never smoke in bed.

If we all do our part we can keep fires from happening.

FORD'S MUSTANG—The only one of its kind—that's the word for the Mustang, experimental sports car introduced by the Ford Motor Co. engineering and styling staffs. The two Ford executives responsible for building it are H. L. Misch, vice president-engineering and research staff (left) and Gene Bordinat, vice president-styling. The Mustang is powered by a V-4 engine which delivers 106 horsepower and a top speed of 117 miles an hour. Engine location is midship—behind the cockpit but forward of the rear axle. The car is only 28.8 inches high at the peak of its hood and 39.4 inches to the top of its airfoil roll bar. Wheelbase is 90 inches and over-all length is 154 inches. The car is the first built by an American manufacturer which fits into the European-dominated popular sports car class. Ford introduced it prior to the running of the U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y.

Ethiopia Praises JFK Racial Action

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—
The government controlled newspaper Voice of Ethiopia today praised President Kennedy for his handling of the University of Mississippi integration crisis.

"It is indeed sad that the United States, which boasts of its guardianship of democracy, has not yet succeeded in convincing its own people that color discrimination has no place in the modern world," the paper said.

It added that the Southern states are "still ignorant of the fact that a man can never be judged by the color of his skin."

Heart Group Provides Educational Service

Dr. Robert A. Heiny, president of the Fayette County Heart Association, Monday reminded residents of the county that education al material concerning heart and other related diseases may be obtained by contacting Mrs. C. L.
Lewellen, 322 East St.

This is one of the services provided by the heart association with funds remaining in the county from the $4,201.39 collected during the campaign in February,
Dr. Heiny said.

The major part of the money is forwarded to the state and national associations to be used for research. Since the drive in February the council has also purchased a resuscitator for the Wayne Twp. Volunteer Fire Department.

Taxes Dominate Current U.S. Business News

NEW YORK (AP) — Congress gave businessmen a tax incentive to modernize their plants and some experts called for tax cuts to stimulate the economy.

As a result, taxes—always a sure-fire subject—dominated the business news.

And it was a week in which a big West Coast steel producer cut prices, and a longshoremen's strike paralyzed ports from Maine to the Gulf of Mexico before being halted by a restraining order.

Final congressional action sent President Kennedy's drastically revised tax bill to the White House for signature.

The legislation's main provision allows a seven per cent income tax credit on money spent for plant and equipment. It was estimated this would mean a $1.3 billion jog for the economy.

However, Congress withdrew one of Kennedy's key requests, a withholding tax on interest and dividends.

To defray some of the loss of revenue because of the tax incentive, Congress tightened rules on business entertainment and travel deductions; increased taxes on mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, mutual fire and casualty companies, and cooperatives.

Chairman Roger M. Blough of U.S. Steel Corp., speaking to the New York State Chamber of Commerce, urged an overhaul of the tax system. He said the present personal income and corporate tax structure has seriously limited the future growth potential of the U.S. economy.

Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, also said a reduction of personal and corporate income is needed to keep the economy advancing.

He told the Mortgage Bankers Association of America in Chicago that the administration's tax program—to be submitted to Congress at its next session—will be aimed at increasing consumers' spending money, stimulating investment in inventories, plants and equipment, and increasing profit margins.

Heller's predecessor in the Eisenhower administration, Raymond J. Saulnier, joined in the call for a tax cut in a speech to the Savings Bank Association of New York.

For the state of the economy, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said it seems to be marking time, and the First National City Bank of New York said activity apparently has leveled off on a high plateau.

Kaiser Steel Co. of Oakland, Calif., the country's ninth-ranking producer, reduced prices an average of $12 a ton as a means of meeting domestic and Japanese competition. Steel traditionally has brought a higher price in the West than in the East.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin and National said they would adjust their prices to remain competitive but they face high freight costs to reach the Western market.

The longshoremen's strike in a wage dispute tied up shipping along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts from Monday to Thursday but President Kennedy, acting under the Taft-Hartley law, went to court and obtained an order requiring an 80-day, cooling-off period.

The nation's unemployment total fell by 420,000 in September to 3,512,000, but the rate remained at 5.8 per cent of the labor force.

An increase among job-seeking women and a rise in the number of unemployed teenagers held the rate at the high level of August. The Labor Department said. Total employment dropped by 1.1 million to 68,668,000 but the decline from August was greater than expected. The Commerce Department estimated new construction in September at $5.9 billion, up seven per cent from a year earlier.

Business inventories declined by $260 million in August to $96.9 billion in the first drop since the recession period of 1960-61.

Department store sales last week posted a 3 per cent gain over the like week of 1961, and September sales were six per cent higher than a year earlier, the federal reserve board reported.

Stocks during the week totaled 13,956,680 shares, compared with 18,564,370 the previous week and 16,240,792 the comparable week of last year. Bond sales amounted to $18,796,000, below the $23,112,000 of the previous week and the $27,415,000 of the comparable 1961 week.

Automakers boosted their production to an estimated 153,000 passenger cars during the week from 147,254 the preceding week. With early sales of 1963 models reported good, they scheduled output of 700,000 cars this month, which would be a record for October.

Steel production during the week climbed for the third straight week to 1,766,000 tons, up three per cent from the previous week. Even so, mills still were operating at less than 60 per cent of capacity.

A Bachelor Is Never Safe

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A bachelor is never safe at any age. The Census Bureau reports: If you've reached the half century mark yourself, the odds are that you'll live to see your 75th birthday. If you make it to 70, the chances are you'll live beyond 80.

Harsha Details Public Opinion Query Results

Detailed results of a public opinion questionnaire sent to thousands of voting citizens in the 6th Ohio District were disclosed by William H. Harsha Jr., at a session of Congress.

Harsha said the recipients of the questionnaire were not limited to any special group or party. The opportunity to participate, Harsha said, was made available to all of those interested in expressing their views on important issues of the day.

Following are the detailed results of the poll:

1. Do you favor Federal Aid for construction of public fallout shelters? Yes, 14 per cent; no, 77 per cent; undecided, 9 per cent.

2. Do you favor a program of matching grants amounting to approximately $1 billion for construction of new medical and dental schools? Yes, 12 per cent; no, 57 per cent; undecided, 31 per cent.

3. Do you favor the Urban Mass Transportation Act providing for $500 million in Federal grants for mass transportation facilities and equipment in urban areas? Yes, 10 per cent; no, 79 per cent; undecided, 11 per cent.

4. Are you in favor of a Youth employment for the unemployed young men of America? Yes, 54 per cent; no, 35 per cent; undecided, 11 per cent.

5. Do you favor a law that prohibits racial discrimination in federally assisted housing? Yes, 42 per cent; no, 45 per cent; undecided, 13 per cent.

6. Do you favor legislation outlawing strikes on missile bases? Yes, 82 per cent; no, 12 per cent; undecided, 6 per cent.

7. Do you favor a firmer attitude in U. S. foreign policy? Yes, 89 per cent; no, 6 per cent; undecided, 5 per cent.

8. Do you favor relaxing inspection requirements now demanded by the United States in a nuclear test ban treaty? Yes, 8 per cent; no, 84 per cent; undecided, 8 per cent.

9. Do you favor an across-the-board cut in income taxes? Yes, 43 per cent; no, 45 per cent; undecided, 12 per cent.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's campaign to get more Democrats elected to Congress in November raises a natural question: How did he do with this present one run by Democrats?

The answer has to be mixed. In this Congress, where Democrats far outnumber Republicans, hardly any big item he asked got through unaltered. Yet, overall Congress put through a number of his major requests. It also killed some major ones.

It has been a tardy, dawdling Congress. Until a few weeks ago Kennedy seemed due for a robust flattening. Then, with members anxious to get home for the elections, Congress picked up speed and did important work.

It is still here, though, winding up, after the longest session since 1951 in the Korean War. That year it quit Oct. 20.

In a democratic society like this it would be astonishing, perhaps lethal, if Congress were so submissive to the executive it gave him precisely and without question everything he asked.

This one didn't with Kennedy. To get much or most of what he wanted, he had to accept compromise measures.

In a very broad sense Kennedy handed both houses of Congress, not like the scrappy and head-knocking President Truman, but like President Eisenhower.

He leaned over backward to avoid personal conflicts even with those in the Capitol who were wrecking some of his programs totally or tearing big holes in them.

But his administration put in a lot of work behind the scenes, with his aides working on individual members of Congress, sometimes with pathetic results.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the very powerful House Ways and Means Committee, was totally against Kennedy's medical care program for the aged. That was it. The program died.

There were efforts Kennedy could have made—like broadcasts to try to rally popular support for his program, hoping the people would put pressure on senators and representatives. He did little of this.

He tried it once on the medical care program but talked off the cuff and the talk was far from his best.

It's true, as he's saying now in his campaigning around the country, that the Republicans in Congress repeatedly harpooned many of his programs.

But so did a lot of his own party members, particularly Southern Democrats who teamed up with Republicans again and again to frustrate him.

If the Democrats had stuck together, voting as a party, they could have drowned the outnumbered Republicans.

James Marlow

Besides medical care, two other major Kennedy programs were simply slaughtered: his proposal for a new department of urban affairs and housing and his request for federal aid to colleges.

Last year Congress ignored his program of federal aid to public (but not Catholic) schools although it can hardly be said he worked overtime for that one.

Kennedy fared most perfectly in his requested authority for the government to buy up to $100 million in U.N. bonds to overcome a U.N. deficit, mostly from its expenses in the Congo.

His biggest, perhaps most far-reaching success came with congressional approval of a broad, new trade and tariff-cutting program he will need in dealing with Europe's Common Market. The program had wide bipartisan support in and out of Congress.

This was also a prime example of how he had to compromise to get most of what he wanted. Over his opposition Congress in the trade bill put restrictions on trade with Yugoslavia and Poland.

Here were other major programs, in each of which Kennedy had to accept some compromise: Foreign aid — The House approved a compromise of $3,928,900,000, a cut of $1,032,400,000, below his original request. The Senate was expected to send the bill to the White House today.

Taxes — Kennedy asked a 7 per cent tax credit for business firms for investment in new equipment. Congress gave him that. But it turned down pleas for withholding the income tax on dividends and interest.

Farm bill — The strict control farm bill he wanted was tossed aside. Congress finally gave him a farm bill much short of the strict controls he had in mind.

EVER HAPPEN TO YOU

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Time Waits For No One

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my husband started seeing another woman. She is younger than I, and single. My husband didn't have the courage to come right out and tell me about it, so he left her letters (addressed to his place of work) around where I would be sure to find them.

When I read the letters I was broken-hearted because we have a lovely family and I thought we were happy. This woman writes about "waiting for the day when we can tell the world about our love." Abby, I would die before I would break up my home.

I haven't said anything to my husband about it, hoping this affair would die by itself. If I wait patiently, and keep praying, do you think he will get it out of his system?

WAITING AND PRAYING
DEAR WAITING: NO! While you are "waiting and praying," your competition is building bombs in her basement. Tell your husband you know about the other woman, that you love him, refuse to share him and will not tolerate his double life. Tell him divorce is OUT—and let him know you mean it!

DEAR ABBY: A relative (an only child) is an "A" student. He has an 8 o'clock class on Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays. It seems he has difficulty awakening in time to make this early morning class UNLESS and UNTIL his mother makes a long distance call to get him up. (They live about 200 miles from his University.)

This student sometimes phones his parents the night before and reminds them to phone him in order to make his 8 o'clock class. BOTH parents have master's degrees in education. What is your opinion?

TELEPHONITIS

DEAR TELEPHONITIS: I think these people must have stock in the telephone company.

DEAR ABBY: I loved the prayer, "Slow Me Down, Lord," which you published in your column. Speaking of prayers, when I was a little girl my mother felt that, "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," etc., "If I Should Die Before I Wake," etc., was too depressing for a child, so she wrote the following prayer for me to say each night:

"Jesus, Gentle Shepherd, hear me. Guard thy little lamb tonight. Through the darkness be thou near me. Keep me 'til the morning light." I believe many mothers would prefer that their little ones say a prayer like my mother's. You have my permission to print it.

NAOMA W.
DEAR NAOMA: Many thanks for the revised version of "Now I Lay Me Down," etc. If I were to suggest an "improvement" on a prayer, I fear the ecclesiastical ceiling might fall in. But I agree, your mother's prayer is more appropriately worded for a child.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Inside You And Yours

By DR. BURTON H. FERN

Will you be the one American to perish in flames during the next first aid and fire prevention?

First aid: Plunge lobster - red 1 degree and blisters 2 degree burns into icy water or run cool water over them.

Cover with gauze soaked in petroleum jelly. It won't stick. Then wrap with a regular bandage.

Don't waste time with 3 degree and 4 degree burns. They kill. Cover with a clean sheet and rush the victim to the hospital.

Prevention is still better!

Smoke With Care!
A few extra ash trays may save your home. They keep lit cigarette ashes out of paperfilled waste baskets. And remember! No smoking in bed, attics or closets, where one spark may light up the sky and burn down your home.

Have your furnace checked regularly. Keep old papers, rags and paints in metal containers away from stove and furnace.

Replace frayed wires and faulty electric switches. Buy only electrical appliances approved by Underwriters' Laboratories. The "UL" label tells.

Use only 15 amp. fuses. Home wiring can't handle larger loads without heating up. Use non-flammable spot remover; it can double as a fire extinguisher sometimes.

Further Precautions
Store lighter fluid, gasoline and kerosene in special metal containers. Air oily rags and mops. Otherwise they may burst into flames at any time.

A safety screen should protect your flickering fireplace. Candlelight is just as romantic with the table moved away from easy-to-burn curtains.

Expert Inspection
Ask your fire department for a home inspection. It's free. And the inspector can point out hazards you may have missed.

He'd much rather inspect your home now and avoid the risk of plucking you from dancing flames in the middle of the night!

North Ohio Gets 97 Vice Stamps

CLEVELAND (AP) — Internal Revenue Service records showed today that 97 gambling stamps costing $50 each have been issued since July 1 in a district covering 47 Ohio counties.

The total is considerably less than the 178 gambling stamps sold in fiscal 1961-62 or the 275 in 1960-61. The stamps expire June 30, 1963.

Lucas County led the list in total number of stamps bought with 21, followed by Mahoning with 19, and Jefferson 17. Belmont County listed 10 purchasers; Seneca and Cuyahoga, six each; Logan, four; Erie, three and De-fiance and Paulding, two each.

Auglaize, Lorain, Ottawa, Crawford, Hancock, Stark and Trumbull counties had one purchaser each.

The Ant and the Grasshopper

We all know the fable of the Grasshopper who gaily danced the summer away while the Ant was busy laying aside provisions and preparing for the cold winter.

There are some people who dance through the summer of their lives as unconcerned and unprepared as the Grasshopper. But other, wiser men and women provide funds against the cold winter day when they will be urgently needed. Snow Water Said Best For Livestock

MOSCOW (AP)—Pigs grow fatter, cows give more milk and chickens lay more and bigger eggs if they drink melted snow, a Siberian scientist says.

"We believe that snow water, having a lower content of heavy water in comparison with ordinary water, facilitates the organism's assimilation of food matter," said Boris N. Rodymov, a biophysicist from Tomsk.

He reported Friday night in the government newspaper Izvestia on his experiments.

Twilight Is Beautiful But It's Also Tricky

CHICAGO (AP) — Twilight is a beautiful time of day, but for a motorist it can be the trickiest. The Chicago Motor Club advises when driving into the setting sun, a driver should reduce speed to compensate for the reduced visibility the low sun creates. Sun glasses help to overcome this hazard, but nothing takes the place of a reduced, safe speed.

Stork's Swiftess Amazing To Father

LONDON (AP) — Edward Tinald kissed his wife goodby and watched her leave for the maternity hospital in an ambulance. It was 7:20 p.m.

At 9:40 p.m., there was a knock on the door. Tinald answered and there, smiling at him, was his 33-year-old wife and their new son.

A hospital spokesman explained there were no vacant beds in the maternity section "and as we could not leave Mrs. Tinald in the labor ward all night we asked her if she would like to go home."

People . . . Places . . . and Things
Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Until the mechanical corn picker came into the farm picture in recent years, most of Fayette County's corn crop was cut by hand, placed in shocks and later husked from the shock.

On many farms, however, sizeable fields of corn were allowed to remain on the stalk, and when, thoroughly ripe, the corn was husked from the stalk. Usually, hogs and cattle were turned into the "stalk fields" to eat any grain that might have been missed and to devour the fodder.

Placing the corn in the shock and then husking it was a big job requiring outside help. Annually the farmers of Fayette County gave employment to hundreds of corn cutters and huskers who came here from the hill areas of southern Ohio and some from West Virginia.

Cutting corn was one of the hardest jobs on the farm. Workmen used corn knives in cutting the stalks a few inches above ground. They carried the stalks as they accumulated from hill to hill, and then placed them in the shock.

Preparing for the shock, it was necessary to bend the tops of four hills of corn together and fasten them securely, for proper support. These were called "blinds" or "gallowes" and one accustomed to tying the supports could do it in a minute's time.

Carrying the heavy stalks with ears was not only a test of strength but required skill in cutting, since most cutters used sufficient force to sever two, three and even four stalks at a stroke. There was always a chance of a glancing blow causing an ugly wound in a foot or leg.

In later years a "railroading" practice was adopted by many persons in cutting corn. This consisted of carrying 10 to 12 hills from shock to shock entirely across a field.

This was a better plan than cutting one shock at a time. However "railroading" was out of the question on windy days since the loose stalks were blown down, making extra work.

For years two, and sometimes three stalks of corn were used to tie the shocks two or three feet from the top. Later a rope with clamp was used to bring the tops close together, and then stalks of corn or binder twine was used to tie the shocks so they would remain upright until husked.

This method of corn harvesting was slow and required a great deal more hand labor than the modern method of picking corn and leaving the stalks which are ideal fertilizer for the soil.

Under the old plan, everything was taken from the ground except the stubble, and nothing returned that would be a soil builder.

U. S. Marines clashed with rebels in Nicaragua where American interests were being guarded.

Robert Thomas Steel, 28, a farm worker, was found dead on a grass-plot beside the DT&L tracks where he had been left by the conductor of a DT&L train who helped him off at Hegler's Station.

James Clark was named bailiff of Common Pleas Court here.

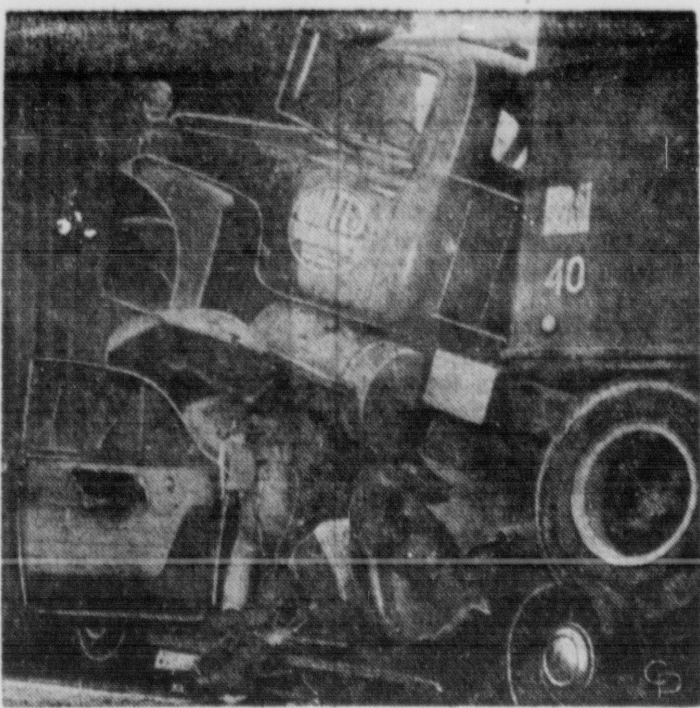

A large bull snake, one of four reptiles which escaped from a show on the Old Fairground, was captured and returned to the owner. The other snakes were found near the show tent.

The Rev. Thomas W. Locke, pastor of Grace M. E. Church for several years, was assigned to a Columbus church and was succeeded here by the Rev. Frederick E. Ross.

Charles Persinger announced he planned to sell the Combination Sales Pavilion on Dayton Ave., and the Arcade Block on N. Fayette St. The Pavilion cost $30,000 when new. The Arcade Block fronted 106 feet on Fayette St., and included the former Foster House Hotel.

A fall fair and racing was announced for Oct. 16, 17, and 18, at the Fairground here.

MR. AND MRS. C. A. BEEKMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beekman, Route 4, Hillsdale, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with an open house at the New Petersburg School from 1 till 7 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Beekman were married Oct. 12, 1912 at Lima. Mrs. Beekman is the former Eva Zurfice. They have one son, Glenn Beekman, Norwalk, nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Several other relatives live in Fayette County. Mr. Beekman is a native of Latham, and Mrs. Beekman of Centerville.

Both of the Beekmans are in good health. Mr. Beekman is semi-retired, still working some in the timber business.

Local Delegates At Conference

The annual Fall Conference of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations was held at the Neil House, Columbus, on Friday.

For the first time in the history of organization of the local club, the Fayette County Chapter of Republican Women was awarded a new silk 50 star Flag of the United States for having met and doubled their membership quota. Another first honor the club had was the invitation for Mrs. Charles B. Lutz, president,

Circle Two Has Meet

Circle Two of the First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. O. D. Farquhar with 13 members and one guest present. A dessert course was served, with Miss Helen Gibbons and Mrs. Darrell Williams assisting.

Miss Etha Sturgeon opened the meeting by reading the names of the missionaries to be remembered with prayer, and offering prayer.

Mrs. Herbert Clickner conducted the business meeting, reporting on the executive board meeting, followed by a discussion of coming events. They are: Oct. 9, association dinner; Oct. 21, family night covered dish supper; Nov. 2, UCW luncheon and Nov. 14, the annual bazaar of the church, which will be all day long with a noon lunch featured. Members were reminded to bring items for the Christian Mission Box to the next meeting.

Mrs. Walter Rettig gave the Bible study, continuing with Romans.

42nd Annual CCL Convention

The 42nd annual convention of the Child Conservation League was held at the Neil House, Columbus, the past week. Mrs. Fred Iffler, state president, was in charge of the business meeting. The highlight of the convention was the banquet held in the ballroom, with Dr. Richard Anderson of Battelle Memorial Institute as the speaker. Other speakers were Dr. Loren M. Bollinger of Ohio State University; Dr. Robert E. Young, of the First Presbyterian Church, Akron.

Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Delta League, concluded two years as Central District president with 109 leagues in five counties, including Columbus, under her direction.

Local members attending were: Mrs. Kenneth Warner, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Marcus Crago, Mrs. Edgar McFadden, Mrs. William Fletcher, Mrs. William Clarke, Mrs. George Naylor, Mrs. Martin O'Connell, Mrs. Carl Wilt.

Mrs. Hilbert Meyer, Mrs. Max Wilson, Mrs. E. R. Rudolph, Mrs. Robert Antoine, Mrs. Roger Whitely, Mrs. Glenn Armintrout, Mrs. Lester Vincent, Mrs. Paul Hughes.

Mrs. James Tuvell, Mrs. Phil Grover, Mrs. Clinton Gilmore, Mrs. David Boswell, Mrs. Robert Highfield, Mrs. Lloyd Cartwright Jr., Mrs. Chester Dean and Mrs. Thomas McCoy.

Ladies Of GAR Have Meeting

Mrs. Walter Parrett, president, conducted the meeting of the Ladies of the GAR when they met at St. Colman's Church on Friday afternoon.

The chaplain, Mrs. Ruth Carr Cory, gave the opening devotion and reports were given by Miss Mazie Rowe and Miss Etha Sturgeon, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Parrett urged the members to seek more members for the circle. A report of the visiting and card committee was given by Mrs. Cory.

Members voted to purchase a flag to be given in the community.

A food sale was planned for October.

Following the business meeting, a memorial service was held for Miss Minnie Breakfield, a former member.

Hostesses serving delicious refreshments to the 19 members were: Miss Etha Sturgeon, Mrs. Omar Sturgeon, Miss Florence Purcell and Mrs. Wilbur Morgan.

The Lee Brothers of Virginia, Richard Harry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee, were the only brothers to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Social Hour Planned

By Missionary Society

Plans for the visit of Mrs. Lewis Brown, a missionary to the Congo, were made when members of the Sugar Creek Baptist Missionary Society met at the home of Miss Golda Baughn, with Mrs. Gladys Gray the cordial hostess. The group is inviting the public to a social hour to be held from 7-7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 15 preceding the talk to be given by Mr. Brown.

Opening devotions were given by Mrs. Gray.

Miss Baughn, president, was in charge of the business meeting when announcement was made of the United Church Women of Fayette County's luncheon to be held at the First Christian Church on Nov. 2.

The White Cross quota was discussed.

Mrs. Maude Coil and Miss Blanche McCord gave the program, reading articles on Hong Kong.

An interesting letter from Miss Catherine Long, special interest missionary at the Christian Center in Kansas, Mo., was read by Mrs. Nellie Hynes.

Mrs. Gray served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The first ice cream plant was established in the city of Washington.

Hornung's Golden Toe Nets Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Someone hung the "Golden Boy" tag on Paul Hornung because of his curly, blond hair. That was a mistake. The gold in Hornung has to be his toe and his ability to win the money games for the Green Bay Packers.

The former Notre Dame star booted the defending National Football League champions into sole possession of first place in the Western Conference Sunday,

Pierce Falls In Sunday Test

Yankees Penetrate In Single Inning

NEW YORK (AP)—Trailing two games to one, San Francisco's Giants found themselves in the familiar role of having to battle back in today's fourth World Series game to pull abreast of the New York Yankees.

The Giants are noted for their ability to come from behind, but this time their task is doubly difficult. Not only are they in enemy territory, where they managed to collect but four hits off right-hander Bill Stafford in a 3-2 defeat Sunday, but they must face Whitey Ford, the most successful pitcher in World Series history.

Manager Ralph Houk planned to use the same lineup against right-hander Juan Marichal he used against left-hander Billy Pierce Sunday. The Yankees broke through Pierce's guard in only one inning but that was enough. Three straight hits in the seventh—more than they got in the other seven innings—helped produce three runs and put Pierce out.

The hits, singles by Tommy Tresh, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, were hard smashes, but three glaring mistakes helped the Yankee cause and pin the defeat on the 35-year-old southpaw.

Felipe Alou's error on Mantle's left-field single permitted Tresh to advance a base to third with Mickey taking second on the throw. Willie McCovey's failure to hold Maris' two-run single to right field permitted Roger to take second, from where he advanced to third on Ellie Howard's fly to Willie Mays.

Don Larsen, who had relieved Pierce following Maris' hit, plunked Bill Skowron on the back with a pitched ball. Then came the play on which the winning run scored, although there was no way for anyone in the sellout crowd of 71,434 to suspect it was the clincher.

Clete Boyer bounced to Jose Pagan. The shortstop flipped to second base for a force on Skowron but Chuck Hiller momentarily bobbled the ball, then got off a weak throw to first, a fraction of a second too late for the double play. Maris crossed the plate with the third run.

PV Panthers Are Edged 8-6 By Hurricane

WILMINGTON — A terrific downpour in the waning minutes of the final quarter failed to dampen the spirits of an up and coming Pleasant View Panthers, as they made a fourth quarter TD here Saturday night, but the roof fell in when the conversion failed and gave the Hurricane a slim 8-6 triumph and its first South Central Ohio League victory of the season.

The Hurricane - Panther game, scheduled for Friday along with the other SCO games, was rained out and postponed until Saturday. In the league games Friday, the Miami Trace Panthers downed Greenfield's Tigers 22-0; Circleville's Tigers shellacked the Lions of WHS 52-0; and Hillsboro's Indians knocked off the Falcons from Franklin Heights 20-0.

Neither team scored in the first half, although the Panthers fumbled on the Wilmington one-yard line with only seconds before half-time.

On the first series of moves in the third period, Hurricane quarterback Chris Stephens flashed 55 yards downfield for a score and tossed one into the flat for the extras, giving the Hurricane an 8-0 edge.

During the heavy rain which came with about two minutes left, the Panthers' Flannigan flipped a lateral to Mogan who raced 30 yards for a six-pointer. However, the try for the extra points failed and the Hurricane had its first SCOL victory, after a 16-16 tie with Miami Trace's Panthers Sept. 28.

Sturday morning the Wilmington junior high outfit powered its way to a 24-0 thumping of the visiting Miami Trace Panthers.

Panther Coach J. Douglas James said, since this was the Panthers first game, the victory by the Hurricane was not too much of a surprise. He said the Panthers' mistakes were mostly of the mental variety, but they showed ability to correct mistakes when shown.

kicking three field goals in a 9-7 victory over the Detroit Lions.

As usual, he saved the best one for when it was needed—this time 33 seconds from the finish.

The Washington Redskins have that golden feeling today, too, having put together their first three-game winning streak since 1957 with a 20-14 decision over the Los Angeles Rams that kept them in the lead in the Eastern Conference with a 3-0-1 mark.

In other NFL games, the New York Giants stayed hot on the trail of the Redskins with a 31-14 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals; the Cleveland Browns defeated Dallas' Cowboys 19-10; San Francisco rolled over the Baltimore Colts 21-13, and the Chicago Bears shut out Minnesota 13-0. Pittsburgh won over Philadelphia, 13-7 Saturday night.

In the American League, Houston defeated Buffalo 17-14 and San Diego handed Dallas its first loss, 32-28 in the only Sunday games.

Herb Adderley set up Hornung's winning kick. The former Michigan State halfback intercepted one of Milt Plum's passes and ran 40 yards to Detroit's 21-yard line with less than two minutes to play. After two running plays, Hornung stepped back and split the uprigths from the 21-yard line.

His other two boots were from the 15-yard line, one in the first period the first time the Packers had the ball and the other in the third quarter.

Washington quarterback Norm Snead found end Fred Dugan a favorite target after using halfback Bobby Mitchell in the first three games. He hit Dugan six times, twice for touchdowns.

Y. A. Tittle passed and ran—at the tender age of 36—the Giants (3-1) to their third win in four starts. He hit Del Shofner with a TD pass, outstepped the Cards' defenders for a 21-yard scoring run and then paved the route for Alex Webster's one-yard scoring burst. In all, he completed 16 of 26 for 190 yards. The Cards (1-3) got both scores from the running of John David Crow.

Jimmy Brown scored two touchdowns, one on a 50-yard pass play from Cleveland quarterback Jim Ninowski, who suddenly fired the Browns (2-2) to a second half comeback with nine completions in 10 tries. Lou Groza helped celebrate "Lou Groza a Day" in Cleveland with a pair of field goals.

The 49ers (2-2) offense was too much for Baltimore (2-2) and its defense too much for Colts' quarterback Johnny Unitas, who was lifted in the second period after gaining only five yards on two completions.

LION NOW A VIKING--Jack Crabtree, who played a lot of tackle for the Lions of WHS before his graduation in 1959, is now opening big holes for the Viking backs of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. The 5-9, 212-pound sophomore tackle has been one of the mainstays of the Viking offense which has won both of its games this season and has a six-game win streak going. Crabtree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gains Crabtree, 121 Laurel Rd., went to 1960 spring training for the Wildcats at Northwestern University Evanston, Ill., but later transferred to Augustana College on an athletic scholarship with a recommendation by his WHS coach, Fred Domenico.

Shakeup Faces Beaten Bucks; 9 Ohio Colleges Undefeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Woody Hayes and his assistants start revamping Ohio State's football team today, a move Hayes promised after Saturday's upset 9-7 loss to UCLA.

In line with his post-game comment that "we've got some re-vamping to do—we're going to start right now," Hayes and his staff have been reviewing the UCLA game in films and notes to see how the lessons learned can be applied to next Saturday's game with oft-beaten Illinois at Champaign.

While this agonizing re-appraisal is taking place at Ohio State, the nine Ohio college teams which remain unbeaten are girding for the coming weekend's encounters also. Kenyon left their ranks during the past weekend, losing 29-14 to twice-beaten Otterbein.

The nine who kept their slates unblemished faced this way:

Bluffton, leading the Mid-Ohio Conference with a 2-0 league record, made it four in a row over-all by overpowering Defiance 31-19.

Miami of Ohio also ran its string for this season to four and its total consecutive victories over two seasons to eight by downing Kent State 24-14.

Ohio University, which shares the Mid-American Conference lead with Miami and Bowling Green, slipped past determined Dayton 27-25.

Bowling Green took Western Michigan 10-6.

Akron, the Ohio Conference leader, ran away from Ohio Wesleyan in the last half for a 41-0 rout.

Wittenberg blanked Heidelberg 21-0 and Capital dumped Hiram 24-16 to keep breathing down Akron's neck in the Ohio Conference.

Western Reserve thumped Washington & Jefferson 20-0 and John Carroll battered Bethany of Pennsylvania 42-6 as Presidents' Conference play got under way.

With 1-0 records, they are in the National Hockey League this year, the high scoring forward said today he doesn't particularly care where he winds up.

The deal started Friday night when Hawk Chief Jim Norris offered the Leafs $1 million for Mahovlich. Leaf President Stafford Smythe was astonished at first. Then, when he thought it over, he termed it a "publicity stunt."

But Norris is having none of that. "I have made the offer," he said today. "One million dollars is my offer. We made it Friday and we shook hands on it. As far as I am concerned, it's a deal."

Meanwhile, Mahovlich, who had been having contract troubles with the Leafs, signed for four years for a reported $110,000.

He apparently was not taking it too seriously either.

His first reaction to the reported deal was a quip. "I'm not getting any of the money."

If the deal goes through, would he report to Chicago?

"What's wrong with Chicago," he observed. "I don't care where I play as long as I'm getting my bucks."

Norris sent Hawk General Manager Tommy Evan to the Leafs' offices in Maple Leaf Gardens with a certified check for $1 million in Canadian money.

But President Clarence Campbell of the NHL remained unimpressed.

"There's no deal as far as I am concerned," he said. "The firm bid indicates there was an offer intended. But no responsible officer of the Leafs accepted."

Veek To Buy Senators '9'

NEW YORK (AP)—A syndicate headed by Bill Veek has obtained an option to purchase the Washington Senators baseball club, it was learned today.

The deal is said to involve approximately $4 million.

Other key men in the syndicate include Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg; Nate Dolin, currently vice-president of the Cleveland Indians; and Rudie Schaefer, business manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Ten stockholders currently own the Washington club, each with ten per cent.

Marksmen Edge Splinters

Mixers Blank Big Boys To Take Pony Loop Lead

The Mixers, undefeated in two games, moved into the first place by rocking the previously-undefeated Big Boys 22-0 and the Marksmen copped their first victory in two games by whipping the winless Splinters 18-6 in a Washington C. H. Pony Football League doubleheader Saturday night in Gardner Park stadium.

With three weeks of the five-season now completed, the Mixers (2-0) hold a one-half game lead over the Big Boys (2-1). The Mixers have two games remaining and the Big Boys only one. The Marksmen and Interns, both 1-1, are tied for third and the Splinters (0-3) are fifth. The Interns were idle Saturday and formed the cleanup crew.

Bob Wilson, Mixer left half-back, continued his hot scoring spree by tallying three touchdowns, one a 56-yard jaunt around right end, to pace the Mixers to their 22-0 victory over the Big Boys in the second game. He now has seven touchdowns in two games.

Wilson scored the winners' first

TD in the first quarter when he plunged five yards into the end zone to cap a 79-yard drive. Later in the first period, he reeled off his 56-yard TD dash on an end-around play. After neither team scored in the second or third quarters, Wilson got his third touchdown in the last period on a two-yard plunge to cap a 68-yard march.

Right Halfback Gary Mount tallied the two extra points following the Mixers' last two touchdowns. The Mixers outgained the Big Boys 209-112 in total yardage and 9-6 in first downs. The Mixers threw only one pass, failing to complete it, while the Big Boys connected on one of six while they had two intercepted.

FULLBACK Jon Alkire completed six of 14 passes, including two for touchdowns, and Halfback Bill Mustine raced 58 yards off-guard for the other TD as the Marksmen overcame an early 6-0 deficit to drop the Splinters 18-6 in the first game.

Breakall-Copas Twosome Wins Bowling Event

Omar Breakall and Florence Copas won the Scotch twosome bowling event at Bowland for the first time Saturday night with a score of 699.

The turnout of 45 twosome's was the biggest in the three months since the event was started. Its popularity has been spreading to the extent that Bowland management is considering starting another for Friday nights in order to accommodate all who want to get in on the fun.

Only 14 pins behind the winning twosome were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick in second place with 655.

In third place after a determined bid for second were Jack North and Carolyn Easter with 646 and only two pins back Howard Johnson and Mary Graves and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yoakum were tied with 644 each.

After the first five twosome's came: Mr. and Mrs. Don Knapp 636; Mary Varney and Bill Varney, 630; Bea Belles and Fred Belles 619; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wise 614; Mr. and Mrs. John Speakman 609; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gaylord 605; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ward 605.

The 19th Hole

Although the tournaments have been completed and the champions and runners-up have earned their laurels, there is still plenty of golf being played on the Country Club course here. And, what with fall rains and relatively cool weather, the fairways and greens are as green as they normally are in the spring.

The lush grass and softer turf have combined to put the brakes on those long rolls and cut down the distance on tee shots a bit, but cards being turned in to Tony Capuana, the club pro, stand as evidence that the scores have not suffered; they are matching those made when the dry, sun-baked fairways were like pavements.

Falling leaves on the tree-dotted course still are no problem.

A hole-in-two doesn't seem to carry the glamour of a hole-in-one, but when Howard (Skeet) Mann got one on the 402-yard No. 2 hole, he also got the thrill of a lifetime.

His drive went down the straight fairway, which parallels Highland Ave., about 215 yards. Taking a No. 3 wood, he smacked his second shot on a bee line to the green approximately 190 yards away and it trickled into the cup.

He was playing with Ben Wright and Dr. Charles Griffiths, who testified to his feat. Mann won't get any citation certificate, but he already has received congratulations.

THIS WAS only one of several outstanding shots this season.

Bill Himmelsbach has made a hole-in-one, not once but twice, both on par 3 No. 8.

Walter Rettig made a hole-in-one on the par 3 No. 5 here and Wayne Powers sank an ace on the Elyria Country Club course.

Mrs. Verne Haugen and Mrs. Lorena Littleton each made a hole-in-two on No. 7 the same day. Like Mann's hole-in-two, those made Mrs. Haugen and Mrs. Littleton match a hole-in-one for rarity and difficulty.

To top off the season of outstanding performances, the new club golf champion is 14-year-old Phil Alkire, the youngest ever to hold the title here. Few clubs anywhere have ever had champions so young.

Steel Orders Running High

October Totals Certain To Top September

CLEVELAND (AP)—Orders are running well ahead of last month, and October shipments from the nation's steel mills are sure to top September's by a sizable margin, Steel Magazine predicted today.

The upturn in steel buying stems largely from stepped-up demand in the automotive industry. If tentative production schedules hold, the weekly metalworking journal said, October's auto production will be the highest ever for the month: 704,000. Last month's output of 470,333 cars was the largest for September since 1953.

"Thanks to Detroit's ambitious plans," Steel continued, "demand for sheets has picked up more than enough to offset seasonal downturns in such products as tin plate, line pipe, and the wide plates that are used to make pipe."

Steel production this week will be slightly higher than the 1.78 million tons that the publication estimated the industry poured last week.

Despite an order upturn, the magazine said, steelmakers doubt the market will support higher prices.

"Selective increases can't be ruled out, but producers would have a hard time making selections," Steel said. "Most products face stiff competition at current levels."

Ironically, the publication noted, government opposition to a price move seems to be softening.

"Caught in a profit squeeze," Steel said, "steelmakers are facing competition among themselves with competitive materials and with imported products."

The publication said import competition was possibly one reason Kaiser Steel Corp. cut its West Coast steel prices by an average $12 a ton earlier this week.

Sluggish demand is keeping pressures on scrap prices. Steel's price composite on the key grade, No. 1 heavy melting, held at $25.67 a gross ton last week.

Big Ten Teams Are Humbled In Successive Trips West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One thing is certain. Horace Greeley wasn't talking to the Big Ten when he issued his historic advice, "Go west, young man, go west."

Two weeks in a row now a nationally ranked college football team from the Big Ten has ventured into the California sunshine.

Two weeks in a row they have straggled back to the Midwest the victims of an upset.

DiSalle Denies Hiring Ex-FBI Investigator

Claim By Rhodes Disavowed; Liquor Scandal Is Aired

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has denied a charge that he hired a former FBI man, Tom Conroy, to investigate his Republican opponent for governor, James A. Rhodes. The claim had been made by Rhodes.

DiSalle said, however, that he had heard Conroy was retained by independent sources. He did not identify the sources. DiSalle said he has not seen any report from Conroy.

The governor gave his views Sunday night in a half-hour interview on KYW-TV. He was questioned by several radio newsmen. The program was paid for by an organization backing DiSalle and it was noted as a "paid political broadcast."

DiSalle also discussed charges of scandal hurled by both Democrats and Republicans last week. Many of the questions dealt with the charge by Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman that Rhodes had diverted $54,000 in political campaign contributions to his personal use.

About the $18,000 from campaign expenses which Rhodes has claimed as 1954 income, DiSalle asserted: "Most of us know that if you have travel expenses you don't pay income tax on it."

Rhodes also has said he repaid $36,000 with interest after borrowing that amount from the campaign fund. If Rhodes repaid the amount, DiSalle said, "it doesn't change the fact that he used the money, even though temporarily."

To the claim that his Republican opponent had his 1954 income tax return amended in 1958, DiSalle said Rhodes did not go to the Internal Revenue Service office voluntarily, "but someone in his office did and then made information available to others."

The governor was asked about the complaint of a Chicago distiller that he paid to get his product sold in Ohio. DiSalle said the charge dated back to 1959, before Richard C. Crouch, former liquor director, had control over liquor sales. The Liquor Board of Control then decided what would be sold, he said.

When the accuser is available, a grand jury will be called, DiSalle said. He said he did not want to be accused of "whitewashing" the case of "mispending money" by calling a jury that might not get results.

DiSalle takes his campaign for re-election into Northern Ohio this week, beginning with a luncheon Tuesday at Geneva in Ashtabula County.

DiSalle is to spend the rest of the day in Lake County. Thursday, he plans to be in Stark County, including a luncheon talk to Mount Union College students in Alliance and a speech at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Canton. Saturday, DiSalle is scheduled to make at least 10 appearances in Lorain County.

150 Presbyterians Of Central Ohio To Meet Here Tuesday

Approximately 150 elders and ministers from 84 Presbyterian churches in Central Ohio will gather at the Washington C. H. Presbyterian Church, 214 N. Hinde St., Tuesday afternoon for the October district business meeting. This will be the first time the meeting has been held here since 1957, Rev. Neil Hand, pastor, said.

The Rev. Mr. Hand said visitors are welcome to visit either the afternoon or evening deliberations, from 4:30 until 9:30 or 10 p.m. The delegates comprise a Presbytery jurisdictional body from 12 counties. There is one meeting per month to conduct business affairs of the churches. Different churches are selected from time to time as the place of meeting.

The moderator for the sessions will be the Rev. E. DeVer Walker, Columbus. The secretary and parliamentarian is Rev. Paul Spierling, also of Columbus.

The dinner will be served by the church's Women's Association. Only if, for some reason, the meeting were to go into closed executive session, would visitors be refused admittance, the Rev. Mr. Hand said. Such is not likely to occur, however, he added.

Disturbs Peace, Fined

Cecil Happeny, 51, of 224 1/2 S. Fayette St., was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court Monday morning on a charge of disturbing the peace by fighting and using obscene language. He was arrested at 8 p.m. Sunday at his home on an affidavit signed by Eldon E. Newland.

Driver Fined $200, Jailed

Weekend Traffic Offenses Numerous

Leonard Johnson, 46, of 250 E. Elm St., pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Monday morning to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Judge Max G. Dice imposed a $200 fine and costs and three-day jail sentence and ordered Johnson's driver's license suspended pending compliance with the financial responsibility law.

Johnson was arrested by Sheriff's Deputy Robert L. Cannon and Patrolman Charles M. Long on Rt. 35-W about 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

Donnie G. Garretson, 20, Columbus, pleaded guilty to two counts of reckless operation and one count of failure to transfer auto license plates.

He was fined $25 and costs on the first reckless operation charge and $25 and costs and his driver's license suspended for 30 days on the second. He also was fined $10 and costs for failure to transfer plates.

Garretson was cited by Patrolman Dean Cox Friday for reckless operation after he drove through the new section of the city parking lot, knocking down the barricades, then turned south on Fayette St. in front of the lot, narrowly avoiding a collision.

Patrolman Simon White cited Garretson on the other two charges a few minutes later after his car was involved in an accident at S. Fayette and Elm Sts.

Others fined on traffic charges were:

Richard L. Penwell, 30, of 422 Grove Ave., $15 and costs for running a stop sign at Rt. 238 and the CCC Highway-E.

Robert Larry Chase, 20, of 204 River Rd., $15 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way at Fayette St. and Circle Ave. He was cited following a three-car accident Friday night.

Norris R. Hattcock, 34, Bloomington, $25 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident on Waterloo Rd.

Richard L. Hazelbaker, 28, of 706 E. Paint St., $25 and costs for reckless operation on W. Court St. Municipal Court was still in session late Monday morning.

Others fined on traffic charges were:

Richard L. Penwell, 30, of 422 Grove Ave., $15 and costs for running a stop sign at Rt. 238 and the CCC Highway-E.

Marshall Grange Committees Named; Card Party Set

JEFFERSONVILLE — Committee appointments, applications for new members and a calendar of events were the principal items discussed at the regular meeting of Marshall Grange Thursday night in the Grange Hall here.

The new master, Charles Morgan, presided.

Applications for two new members were received and discussed, and a committee consisting of Mrs. Edward Rankin, W. B. Edwards and John Morgan was appointed to investigate. Two other candidates, Penny Rankin and Linda Young, were given degree work and obligations.

Mr. and Mrs. William Copas were chosen to head a committee to arrange for a card party at Grange Hall Oct. 27. It was announced that the last card party netted $23.77 for the treasury.

Morgan also appointed a chairman of the home economics committee, Mrs. John Cannon Jr.; a chairman for community service committee, Miss Elda Fenner; and a youth chairman, William Copas.

Monday, Oct. 22 was set for Booster Night.

The November refreshment committee will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ritenour and Mrs. Rowena Cummins.

Mrs. O. E. Sams and the Rev. Robert Slocumb, Grange members, were reported ill.

Mrs. W. B. Edwards is chairman of the candy sale now being conducted by Marshall Grange.

Mrs. Jean Craig showed colored slides of a recent trip to Europe and refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith.

Tracy To Address Young Republicans

Roger Tracy, Republican candidate for state auditor, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Fayette County Young Republicans Club at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The club was reorganized last Tuesday at a meeting in the party headquarters, 146 N. Fayette St. At that time, the group laid plans for the Tuesday night meeting, but agreed the headquarters was too small for it; so arrangements were made to hold it in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Robert Feikema, vice president, emphasized that the Tuesday night meeting is for Republicans of all ages and is not limited to members of the club.

WCH Hog Prices Retrieve Losses

Top Animals Quoted At $17.50-$17.75

The hog market here has regained the losses it suffered when prices skidded $1.50 a hundred overnight after the National Farmers Organization declared a recess on its withholding action last Wednesday.

William Mace, general manager of the Union Stockyards, and Jim Tarbuton, manager of the Producers Stockyards, said top hogs Monday were being quoted at $17.50 to $17.75. That is just about the level of the market when prices tumbled to $16.25 - $16.50 last Thursday as hogs started pouring into the nine major terminal markets in the Midwest.

Both Tarbuton and Mace said that the hog run at the two stockyards here continues about normal. They agreed the NFO's recess on the withholding action had affected the hog market, because receipts at the terminal markets more than doubled as a result.

However, they hesitated to attribute the slump in cattle prices to the NFO withholding recess, although the market is off $1. to $1.50 a hundred from a week ago. Cattle prices, they said, are holding steady at $29-$30 a hundred, and receipts are about normal.

Both Mace and Tarbuton said the NFO recess had made little difference on the hog and cattle runs at the stockyards here, but pointed out that the terminal markets, which reacted last Thursday to the heavy volume of livestock, especially hogs, govern prices paid at all markets.

Explanation Given On Direct Dialing At Grange Meeting

NEW MARTINSBURG — Members of Forest Shade Grange and their guests today have a better understanding of what new direct distance dialing will mean to them when it is put into effect by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Nov. 18.

Richard Meyer, a representative of Ohio Bell, explained the new system and how it should be used and showed slides describing its operation at Sunday night's Booster meeting of the Grange here.

Because of the general interest in direct dialing throughout the community, the meeting was open to everyone, as are all Booster Night meetings.

There was no business session and no ritual, but Richard Carson, the master, acted as the toast-master.

The program, which followed a potluck supper, also included the showing of slides made by Miss Jean Owens in Michigan where she went as a 4-H exchange and a talk by Miss Lenna Grice on her trip to the World's Fair in Seattle last summer.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Eldon Bethards, the lecturer.

JUVENILE COURT

Two teen-agers lost their driver's licenses for 30 days in Juvenile Court Saturday.

They were Hannah Kay Case, 17, daughter of Judge and Mrs. John P. Case, 330 Jupiter St., who appeared on a citation for passing without an assured clear distance, and Frank M. Vandemark, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Vandemark, Greenfield, cited for speeding.

Both complaints were filed by the State Highway Patrol. Juvenile Judge Omar A. Schwartz told both drivers that their licenses will not be returned until they pass tests based on the Ohio Driver's Manual.

SUIT ASKS FORECLOSURE

The Leeburg Federal Savings and Loan Association asks judgment of $7,052.23 in a Common Pleas Court suit against Robert and Jean Maust, Dennis Rd. The action seeks foreclosure of a mortgage on a 7,200 - square - foot parcel of real estate in Union Twp. and asks that proceeds from sale of the property be applied on a promissory note executed by the defendants as well as to any other liens on the premises.

Soldiers' Relief Returns $5,000 To General Fund

The Fayette County Soldiers Relief Commission has released to the Board of Commissioners the sum of $5,000 which was appropriated for soldiers' relief purposes last January but which will not be needed this year.

The money reverts to the county's general fund and will be used, if necessary, to aid other departments of government which may experience year-end money problems.

The commissioners approved the action at their regular meeting Monday. Other action before the board was routine, including payment of bills.

Man Arrested Here Faces N.Y. Charges

Bartholomew Yacone, 19, Bls-dell, N. Y., waived extradition before Judge John P. Case in Fayette County Common Pleas Court Monday morning and was turned over to two investigators for the New York State Police.

He will be returned to Albany, N. Y., to face charges of grand larceny and issuing fraudulent checks.

Yacone had been held in the city jail several weeks ago for New York state authorities, but when they failed to come for him he was released. Yacone subsequently spent several days in Washington C. H., then went to Columbus where he got a job.

On Sept. 27 Sheriff Don Thompson received a teletype message from New York State Police advising that a warrant had been issued for Yacone's arrest.

Saturday Yacone appeared at the Washington C. H. police department to request assistance in recovering some clothing he had left here. The sheriff was notified and Yacone was taken into custody.

Sign Ordinance Before Council

An ordinance eliminating the need for permits to erect temporary signs of a charitable or political nature will be considered at City Council's regular meeting Wednesday night.

City Manager David Foell said the measure is the only legislative item on the meeting agenda. It is designed to clarify an ordinance regulating the erection of signs over the public right-of-way passed several months ago.
